St. Luke's Home.—A Home for Indigent Christian Females, without regard to age or station, must commend itself to every one. Are they not in an especial manner "God's Poor "Their only prospect of earthly succor is from those whom the love of God prompts to extend an aiding hand to suffering homanity. Youth, even when surrounded by abject poverty, is buoyed up by hope and nerved by strength. Old age has no hope this side the grave, no strength but for endurance—poor, feeble, aged, alone. Such is the lot of most of the immates of our Home, whom it is our privilege to surround with comfort, protection, and the blessed offices of the Church. At present we have only accommodation for about fifteen. It is very desirable that a suitable building be creeted, that this great charity may be shared by many more that are at present enjoying it. It is estimated that for this purpose $25,900 will be required. The Rectors of most of our Churches have expressed their readiness to commend it to their congregations, and in a few days applications will be made by those duly authorized for subscriptions to the building fined. On behalf of the Associate Managers.

Capt, Reid is a favorite author of ours. His style is always sprightly, his descriptions graphic, and his narrative condensed and striking. This work is one of his best. It is one of the most vivid pictures of a Western hunter's life that we have ever seen. He knows how to seize upon the peculiarities of any scene, or situation, or incident, and serve them up in the most riquant style for the gratification of his readers."
